[REDACTED] that the first annual Mississippi Youth Jubilee is scheduled to be held April 11-13, 1969. Two persons scheduled to attend are Abbie Hoffman and Paul Krassner.

[REDACTED] The Jubilee is being sponsored by the Southern Student Organizing Committee (SSOC). [REDACTED] Abbie Hoffman is a white male. He received a Bachelor of Arts (BA) Degree from Brandies University in June, 1959. Hoffman was a leader in the disruption of a Democratic National Convention in Chicago in August, 1968, and was arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. In January, 1969, he was convicted of resisting arrest and sentenced to one year's probation, the first fifteen days to be served in jail. He is presently free on $1,000 appeal bond.

[REDACTED] Paul Krassner is a white male from New York. He has indicated continuing support and sympathy for Fidel Castro's government and traveled to Cuba in 1960.

The Mississippi Southern Student Organizing Committee has utilized Mount Beulah Training Center, Edwards, Mississippi, for their meetings in the past and the source believes the Jubilee, if held, will be held at Edwards, Mississippi.

MISSISSIPPI YOUTH JUBILEE

On April 7, 1969, an inquiry at Mount Beulah Training Center, Edwards, Mississippi, revealed that a group called "Mississippi Youth Jubilee" had reserved the facilities at Mount Beulah for the weekend April 11-13, 1969.

A characterization of the Students For a Democratic Society (SDS) and Southern Student Organizing Committee (SSOC) appears in the appendix section of this report.

that the Southern Student Organizing Committee (SSOC) was formed on the weekend of April 3-5, 1964, to stimulate activity of Southern student groups in areas of civil rights, peace, academic freedom, civil liberties, capital punishment, and unemployment. Originally, it was to be a white counterpart of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). It has agreed to work with similar interested groups such as SNCC and Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. (SCEF). SSOC is a fraternal affiliate of the SDS.

Beginning in the Fall of 1966, SSOC became a membership organization and embarked on a campaign to form local chapters on various college campuses throughout the South. SSOC publishes, October through May each year, a publication, "New South Student," which according to the above source has increasingly espoused and defended the pro-Communist and anti-United States position on domestic and foreign policy.

[REDACTED]

SSOC continues to be headquartered at 1703 Portland Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee, and continues to defend and espouse the pro-Communist and anti-United States position with particular emphasis on attacking United States policy in Vietnam and emphasis on attacking the Selective Service System. Source two noted that SSOC

Chairman Thomas N. Gardner in the summer of 1967 traveled to Prague, Czechoslovakia, where he met with representatives of the National Liberation Front (NLF) and the Democratic Republic of Vietnam (DRV), and that SSOC staff members Bruce Smith and Alan Levin traveled to Cuba in the summer of 1967 and February, 1968, respectively.

By letter dated April 26, 1968, on SSOC letterhead mailed to the general SSOC membership over the signature of Mike Welch, Executive Secretary of SSOC, it was announced that as a step toward close relations with the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and better communications with the movement nationally, SSOC and SDS have worked out an exchange of the "New South Student" and the "New Left Notes," and that SDS and SSOC were exchanging contact lists of their respective memberships for this exchange.

The May, 1968, issue of "New South Student" indicates that the SSOC mailing address is P. O. Box 6403, Nashville, Tennessee, 37212, Telephone Number 615-291-3537; and the masthead describes the organization as "An association of young concerned Southerners dedicated to social change," as taken from the preamble of the SSOC constitution.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anticommunist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

The records of the Marriage Record Bureau, New York, New York, were reviewed on June 26, 1968 by Investigative Clerk (IC) William J. Paul and revealed the following information under certificate number 12461:

Abbott H. Hoffman, residence 30 St. Marks Place, New York City, born November 30, 1936, Worcester, Massachusetts, occupation - writer, parents John Hoffman, born Russia and Florence Hoffman nee Schanberg, born Clinton, Massachusetts, and Anita S. Kushner, residence 30 St. Marks Place, New York, New York, born March 16, 1942, Baltimore, Maryland, occupation writer, parents Elias A. Kushner, born New York and Leah B. Kushner nee Zank, born New York, were married on July 2, 1967 by Rabbi Nathan A. Perilman, 150 East 69th Street, New York, New York. nd

The records revealed that this was Abbott Hoffman's second marriage and that his first marriage was to Sheila Karklin, which ended in divorce in May, 1967 in Massachusetts, on the grounds of mental cruelty and that Abbott Hoffman was the defendant.

The records also revealed that this was Anita Hoffman's first marriage.

Abbott Hoffman, when interviewed by Special Agents (SAs) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) b7C and b7D on September 6, 1968, advised that when he first came to New York City, he opened a store to sell products of the Mississippi poor people and that he sold this store a year ago for $1.00.

made available information indicating that Anita Hoffman has been employed as a clerk by the Cotton Yarns, Incorporated, 395 5th Avenue, New York City, since 1960.

By means of a suitable pretext conducted by a Special Agent of the FBI on July 30, 1968, it was determined that the Cotton Yarns, Incorporated is a business owned by Elias Kushner, Anita Hoffman's father.

A representative of the Bureau of Special Services (BSS), New York City Police Department (NYCPD), advised on October 11, 1967, that Abbie Hoffman was fired from a job with the New York City Youth Board a few weeks previously. Hoffman was hired by the City of New York at a salary of $100.00 per week in a program instituted by Mayor John V. Lindsay wherein people who were on the "inside" of neighborhood activity could furnish information to the city of possible neighborhood trouble spots.

On November 15, 1967, a representative of the BSS, NYCPD, advised that Abbie Hoffman listed his occupation as a poet when he was arrested by the NYCPD on November 14, 1967.

Abbott Howard Hoffman
Security Matter - Anarchist

On April 11, 1969, Special Agents (SAs) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) observed Abbott Hoffman at 10:00 a.m. enter Part 2B of the Criminal Court of the City of New York, Room 411, 100 Centre Street, New York City, where Hoffman was scheduled to appear for trial in connection with his arrest at Columbia University, New York City, on April 30, 1968, on charges of Criminal Trespassing and Resisting Arrest.

At 11:30 a.m., the SAs of the FBI observed Hoffman leave the court room and proceed to the elevators of the building.

At 11:40 a.m., an official of the Criminal Court advised an SA of the FBI that the arresting officer of Hoffman was on vacation and that, therefore, Hoffman's case had been continued by the court for June 23, 1969.

A representative of the Bureau of Special Services (BSS) of the New York City Police Department (NYCPD) advised on April 11, 1969, that a rally was held at the New York City Criminal Courts Building, 100 Centre Street, New York City, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on that date in support of 21 Black Panther Party (BPP) members arrested by the NYCPD on April 2, 1969.

The representative of the BSS, NYCPD, further advised that Abbie Hoffman was arrested in the corridor of 100 Centre Street, New York City, by the NYCPD at approximately 11:40 a.m. on April 11, 1969, and charged with Disorderly Conduct, Resisting Arrest and Felonious Assault.

Abbott Hoffman
Security Matter - Anarchist

On April 15, 1969, an SA of the FBI observed Abbott Hoffman and his attorney, Gerald Lefcourt, enter Part 2B of the Criminal Court of the City of New York, Room 411, 100 Centre Street, New York City, at 10:00 a.m. Hoffman was observed leaving the court room at 10:30 a.m.

An official of the Criminal Court advised an SA of the FBI on April 15, 1969, that on April 11, 1969, Abbott Hoffman made an appearance at the court, but that he did not wait for the calendar on his case to be called. Although when called, the case was continued to June 23, 1969, at the request of the District Attorney. The court official advised further that because Hoffman left the court on April 11, 1969, a bench warrant was issued for his appearance on April 15, 1969, at which time he was notified officially that the matter had been continued for June 23, 1969. The court official also advised that Hoffman's attorney, Gerald Lefcourt, commented that Hoffman was scheduled to depart New York City shortly after noon on April 15, 1969, by plane for a "speaking engagement in Indiana."

On the evenings of May 11 and 12, 1968, the "At Random" television program was aired on the Columbia Broadcasting System Television (CBS-TV), Channel Two, Chicago, Illinois, with Moderator John Madigon. Among the participants on part two of these programs was Abbie Hoffman, who identified himself as a representative of the Youth International Party (YIP). During the ensuing discussion, Hoffman was asked if he was in favor of the overthrow of the United States (US) Government by the Moderator and Hoffman replied that he was in favor of the overthrow of the US Government by any means possible.

The March, 1969, issue of "Rights" self-described, is a publication of the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (NECLC), on page 12, reported that on February 1 (1969), the NECLC welcomed Gerald Lefcourt to its staff as Legislative Director.

A characterization of NECLC is attached hereto.

Abbott Hoffman
Security Matter - Anarchist

A review of the records of the Criminal Court of the City of New York, Part 1D, on April 15, 1969, disclosed the following data regarding the arrest of Abbott Hoffman by the NYCPD on April 11, 1969:

(1.) Docket Number B 9547

Abbott Hoffman was arrested by Patrolman BRIAN MULHEREN of the NYCPD on April 11, 1969, in the lobby of 100 Center Street, New York City, when he refused to leave the lobby when ordered. Hoffman was charged with resisting arrest, harassment, disorderly conduct, and obstructing governmental administration. Hoffman was arraigned before New York City Judge Arthur Goldberg on April 11, 1969, on the above charges in Part 1A2 of the Criminal Court of New York City at which time he was released on $500 bail and the case continued until May 16, 1969 in Part 1D of the Criminal Court of New York City.

(2.) Docket Number A 5570

Abbott Hoffman was arrested by Patrolman RICHARD FARRY of the NYCPD in the lobby of the Criminal Court Building, 100 Center Street, New York City, on April 11, 1969 for kicking a police officer in full uniform in the groin causing physical injury. Hoffman was charged with felonious assault and was arraigned before New York City Judge Arthur Goldberg on April 11, 1969 at which time he was released on $2,000 bail and the case was adjourned to May 16, 1969, in Part 1D of the Criminal Court of New York City.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "... we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE, Formerly Known As
Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., contains the following concerning the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee:

"Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

"1. 'The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee is an organization with headquarters in New York, whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and discredit the FBI. * * * The committee finds that the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, established in 1951, although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party. It has repeatedly assisted, by means of funds and legal aid, Communists involved in Smith Act violations and similar legal proceedings. One of its chief activities has been and still is the dissemination of voluminous Communist propaganda material.'

'FRANK WILKINSON was called as a witness when he appeared in Atlanta as a representative of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee to propagandize against the Committee on Un-American Activities and to protest its hearings. In 1956 WILKINSON was identified as a Communist Party member by a former FBI undercover agent within the Party. Summoned at that time to answer the allegation, his reply to all questions was, "I am answering no questions of this committee." This also became his stock reply to questions when he appeared during the Atlanta hearings. * * * WILKINSON has since been convicted of contempt of Congress and sentenced to one year in jail.'

'Disputing the non-Communist claim of the organization, the committee finds that a number of other individuals connected with the ECLC also have been identified under oath as Communists. * * *'

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Annual Report for 1958, House Report 187, March 9, 1959, pp. 34 and 35.)

"2. 'To defend the cases of Communist law-breakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the * * * Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire these fronts offer a bulwark of protection.' (Internal Security Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Handbook for Americans, S. Doc. 117, April 23, 1956, p. 91.)"

"The New York Times", a New York City daily newspaper, in its April 1, 1968, issue, page 13, contained an item captioned, "Draft Dissenters to Get More Help", which related that at a news conference held by the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (ECLC) on the previous day, it was announced that the organization was changing its name to the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (NECLC) "to reflect our determination to develop a vital national civil liberties organization in all 50 states as rapidly as possible."

 that the
NECLC is located at 25 East 26th Street, New York City.

RE: ABBOTT HOFFMAN

Below article was taken from March 14, 1969
issue of Antioch College "Record," Yellow Springs, Ohio;

Hoffman Here

YIPPIE LEADER Abbie Hoffman will be speaking 8:30 p.m. Saturday in 113 McGregor. Author of Revolution for the Hell of It, Hoffman has been arrested thirty times since earning a masters degree in psychology from Berkeley six years ago.

HE WAS INSTRUMENTAL in creating the chaos surrounding the Chicago convention, and recently caused havoc at the HUAC investigations by arriving dressed in an American flag shirt. Hoffman is planning to speak on what's happening, to show the Yippie film about Chicago, and to spring a few surprises, he says.

Below article was taken from the March 18, 1969 Final Edition of the "Journal Herald," a daily newspaper in general circulation in Dayton, Ohio, page 25:

Yippie Unleader Trades 'Pearls'

By William W. Barringer
Journal Herald Staff Writer

Abbie Hoffman, Jerry Rubin's "Robin" in the Dynamic Duo of Yippiedom, alighted on the Wright State campus yesterday, found a patch of grass, eyeballed the thin crowd of well-fed collegians around him and concluded gloomily: "There won't be any trouble here."

Hoffman appeared as part of the school's "Artists and Lecturers" series, whereby he was to trade pearls of wisdom for pearls of great price or, at least, enough to get back to New York City. It was an astute trade, but then Hoffman is wise in the ways of the street.

He has been in the forefront of numerous Yippie (Youth International Party) demonstrations. A record of prestigious arrests (Chicago and Washington being the status jalls these days) has placed Hoffman in the peculiar position of being a national leader in a theoretically leaderless group.

FOR AN "UNDISCLOSED amount," the bushy-beaned advocate of anarchy-according-to-the-Marx-brothers took a bludgeon-like wit to society's foibles, presumably in search of some soft-white-under-belly laughs.

Somehow, the targets seemed too obvious—like drive-in mortuaries—and one couldn't help but feel Will Rogers did it better more than 30 years ago.

Some free samples:

- On the Walker report of violence in Chicago: "The reports keep getting better and the situation keeps getting worse."
- On conspiracy charges against the Yippies for their role in the Chicago ruckus: "Hell, they say they can prove a conspiracy against us, and they can't prove one against James Earl Ray."

- ON THE Central Intelligence Agency, Federal Bureau of Investigation and assorted snoopers: "The New York Times says U.S. spies are gathering information so fast their chiefs can't read it all."

- On marijuana: "We smoke it because it's fun. We sent 30,000 joints (translation: joints; translation: marijuana cigarettes) through the mails on St. Valentine's Day to people in the New York telephone directory—at random."

• On putting LSD in Chicago's water supply: "I told the deputy mayor it was impossible. 'You own the city,' I said. 'They'll tell you it can't be done.' 'Yeah,' he said, 'I know it can't be done but we're not taking any chances.' So they put 20,000 guards on every treatment plant in the city."

• On the Yippies: "It's just an image. The media made the hippies. We figured they would make us, too. And they did."

"WE HAVE NO structure, no ideological base to say 'this is how things should be' . . . our program will evolve in the struggle."

A kid stopped Hoffman and said "Well, what can I DO? What's the idea behind all this?"

A bad question, kid. A setup for the pull-down. Like . . . if you don't know, I mean . . . if . . . that kind of question. I mean . . . And everybody laughs. That crazy kid. Imagine asking such a question.

Hoffman hasn't got time for the people who didn't feel the wavelength, absorb the message by osmosis. In the McLuhan age, words are linear, gray, devoid of meaning. You don't have to be able to define what you'll die for.

"So you get killed, so what?" asks Hoffman. "What's 'killed,' what's that?"

Yeah, Abbie, what's that?

Riot? Abbie Calls It Experiment

"As long as there are no myths accepted by the masses, one may go on talking of revolts indefinitely, without ever provoking any revolutionary movement."
—George Sorel, Reflections On Violence

Abbie Hoffman, sometime writer, fulltime revolutionary and founder of the Youth International party, brought no furtive federal men this time.

He came in Saturday, met at the airport by members of Antioch's Anarchists Anonymous, who swayed out into the lazy afternoon in an old Biscayne, through the other worlds of Fairburn and Vandalia, listening to Carmen on the radio, eating homemade bread.

At Gate 3, Hoffman, once busted by the Rochester cops because he wouldn't fasten an airliner seat belt, came down the steep steps, his five o'clock shadow 90 minutes early, brown eyes wary, tentacles of dark hair coiling in the wind, slight savagery in a hound's smile.

AND NOW Hoffman, tongue split in a dozen places from talking through the week end at Antioch with the faithful, is at Wright State. Hoffman, the anarchists' messenger, talking Monday over the sky-stoned clamor of Wright-Patterson planes.

First, he showed the underground answer to Mayor Daley's sarcastically titled televised film, "What Trees Do They Plant?" a defense of the Chicago police.

It was a short film with background by Ed Sanders of The Fugs, a montage of scenes from the Chicago riots interspersed with old footage from the Keystone Kops, WWI doughboy films and Dionysian dabbings from Cecil B. DeMille epics (since, some hippies were arrested in Chicago for planting trees without a permit).

Then out on the grass, surrounded by the sterile splendor of Wright State brick.

"CHICAGO," says Hoffman, "was to show what happens when you deal with the power structure. Cops wipe out kids. Revolution founded this country — look at the Minutemen. But a government has no sense of morality.

"On the East side in New York, we try to live the revolution. Politics is how you live your life. We share whatever we've got because our conception is that property is theft, property is robbery and the landlord is a violent person.

"I had a friend who pulled a fire alarm and sat down on the curb. The fire department came and he said 'The country's on fire.' Bellevue. Who's insane?

"YOU HAVE A right to die in Vietnam. You also have a right to participate in what courses you are taking. You want to help us? Take over a building some night. Have a be-in. You are a product in this business. What happens when the product doesn't work? It's obsolete. Wow.

"I'm just going down the road, fermenting riot. I know it sounds like anarchy, but it's not. It's experimentation. We try a lot of different things. We aren't satisfied with what we've got. The left gives you the whole route. We say 'Whaddaya want?' You make the decisions that affect our life. We're lousy politicians. That's what this country needs, lousy politicians.

"We go around, speak to thousands of kids. They really get excited. This is the thing, they say."

"But what happens, Abbie, when you fly out of here tomorrow or the next day?"

"I DON'T know man," and talks shifts subtly to Chicago, of no plans in the park and results. "We kept Humphrey from getting elected," he says.

"Yeah, but look who's there now."

"We wait awhile," says Hoffman. "Nixon is cool. He's too thin to call a pig. He's a smooth corporation kind of guy. Didn't he write that book, 'My Six Crises'? He'll have more . . ."

"But what then," somebody asks. "Where does it go?"

"I don't know, man. I don't know. I was up all last night thinking about it."

[REDACTED] that Abbott Hoffman had departed from New York City on the nine A. M. shuttle flight to Chicago, Illinois, for a court appearance. Further that Hoffman planned to return to New York City on Friday, April 11, 1969.

United States Attorney Thomas Foran advised on April 9, 1969, that on that date, Hoffman was one of eight defendants arraigned in the courtroom of United States District Judge Julius J. Hoffman, Northern District of Illinois, Chicago, in connection with disturbances at the Democratic National Convention held in Chicago in August, 1968. All of the defendants, including Hoffman, pled not guilty and a trial date was set for September 24, 1969. The defense requested six months to prepare motions, which was rejected by the District Judge and the defense was given thirty days to prepare its motions. The defense also requested a removal of all travel restrictions for the eight defendants. Also each defendant, including Hoffman, waived his right to be present at all pre-trial proceedings in this matter and need not appear at such pre-trial proceedings.

United States Attorney Thomas Foran advised on April 15, 1969, that all of the above defendants, including Hoffman, are free to travel within the continental United States including the Island of Puerto Rico, provided that in advance of such travel and as soon as practical after the in-currence of such travel arises, the defendants furnish to the United States Attorney, Chicago, written details of their itineraries, dates, approximate times and means of transportation, and places at which the defendants will reside during such travel, or if no such address is available in advance, where the defendants can be reached.

67D [REDACTED] another government agency that conducts intelligence investigations, advised on April 15, 1969, that on April 10, 1969, Abbott Hoffman addressed an audience of approximately 300, primarily students, in the "Bugg House" Room at Northeastern, Illinois, State College (NISC), Chicago, Illinois. Hoffman wore a pastel-blue shirt, identical to that worn by the Chicago Police Department patrolman, including the official arm patch of the Chicago Police Department. Hoffman urged students to ignore present laws in respect to accomplishing those things the students enjoyed, whatever, at the time those activities might include; e.g., demonstration, freedom of sexual intercourse, smoking marijuana or indulgence in taking "Acid". He stated, "There are two million seven hundred laws in this f-----country, if you want to do something, do it!" Hoffman also said the Black Panther Party (BPP) was fantastic and great and praised the work of the organization. He urged a contribution for the BPP, and a collection was made. Hoffman said the money collected should be used by the BPP for anything they wanted, including the purchase of guns. The audience was given an opportunity to ask questions of Hoffman, or to make comments. The first person chastised Hoffman for not observing a more serious attitude about protesting for a social revolution, and for Hoffman's not taking enough action to organize movements against the present society. Another speaker accused Hoffman of having received in the past numerous monetary profits which he retained for himself, rather than to use them for the work of some of the organizations that needed them. Another speaker stated that Hoffman was making a game of his organization by having "pot parties", and such. One speaker, the only one who appeared with jacket and tie, who mentioned he was a teacher, appealed for the audience to view the world in a religious light, rather than to partake in general protest. This speaker asked any females in the audience to leave, due to the obscene words being used by Hoffman and some of the other speakers, for which he was severely mocked by the general audience. One young female vehemently expressed her disaffection with the teachers suggestion. A young male speaker then suggested that left-wing groups in general should react in a less radical manner in obtaining their goals. Hoffman injected comments during and after the questions and comments of the speakers. He also agreed to donate the total of $300, which he claimed he was receiving for his appearance, to the BPP. The meeting then terminated with no major incidents.

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] also advised that there were no arrests, incidents or demonstrations, during or after Hoffman's appearance at NISC.

67D

CONFIDENTIAL

[REDACTED]
that on that date, Hoffman departed on United Air Lines Flight Number 318, leaving O'Hare Field, Chicago, at 10:35 P.M. for Newark.

SUBJECT: ABBOTT HOWARD HOFFMAN, aka
SM-ANA (KEY ACTIVIST)
ARL (PRINCIPAL SUBJECT)

Re Chicago airtel dated 2/4/69.

On August 28, 1968, HOFFMAN was arrested in Chicago during the Democratic National Convention. He was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. HOFFMAN failed to appear on September 6, 1968, to answer these charges, and on September 17, 1968, he was arrested as he arrived in Chicago from New York, on a warrant issued by Judge GILIBERTO, Branch 47, City Court, Chicago. On November 25, 1968, Criminal Court Judge WAYNE OLSON, continued the case until December 16, 1968.

On January 28, 1969, HOFFMAN was convicted of the charge of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest, and Judge KENNETH R. WENDT, Mass Arrest Court, placed him on a year's probation, with the first 15 days to be spent in the House of Correction, Chicago. Also, HOFFMAN was given until March 18, 1969, to appeal the case and he was released on $1,000 appeal bond.

On April 29, 1969, criminal records of the First Municipal District, Bond Court, Civic Center, Chicago, reflected that on February 19, 1969, HOFFMAN had filed a motion for a new trial and on February 21, 1969, he had filed a motion for reconsideration of his conviction. These records further reflect that the matter has been continued until May 8, 1969, in the court of Judge KENNETH R. WENDT, Branch 47, City Court, Chicago.

regarding subject's appearance and speech at a fund-raising

New York immediately submit an LHM containing complete information concerning subject's statements and activities at this event.

Bureau airtel 4/3/69 instructed New York to submit a daily airtel concerning activities of subject, including pertinent activities, statements, contacts, funds received and/or expended, and future plans for travel and/or activities, and including also efforts by your office to develop additional informant coverage of subject. Your office has shown progress in directing existing informants and sources to obtain information concerning subject's activities and also in developing additional coverage. Information developed in recent weeks indicates subject has become increasingly active and has made numerous appearances throughout the country. You should continue to make every effort to develop additional informants and sources to provide complete coverage of subject's activities.

Subject's activities, particularly his extensive travel, in recent weeks has obviously necessitated expenditure of considerable funds. It would also appear likely that he has received remuneration from appearances he has made in various cities. You should review subject's activities in the recent past and set out specific leads for offices covering areas to which he has traveled to determine all information concerning funds received and expended by subject for any reason. Handle this investigation promptly, and upon completion compile results into one concise letterhead memorandum and promptly submit same to Bureau together with any appropriate recommendations for counterintelligence measures suggested by this information. A copy of the letterhead memorandum will be furnished to Internal Revenue Service concerning investigation being conducted by that agency in relation to subject's Federal Income Tax Returns.

New York should also carefully review results of this investigation on a continuing basis with a view to recommending any potentially effective counterintelligence measures against subject. Take no positive action in this regard, however, without prior Bureau approval.

New York should also closely follow auxiliary offices to insure that complete information is developed concerning subject activities when traveling outside New York, and that such information is promptly submitted in disseminable form. Bear in mind requirements in relation to the ARL investigation of subject also.

Daily airtels submitted by your office should be responsive to instructions contained in above-mentioned Bureau airtel.

NOTE:

Hoffman is a Priority I Security Index subject and a Key Activist. New York airtel contained insufficient information concerning statements by subject at a fund-raising affair and no LHM was submitted as previously instructed. New York instructed to carefully review subject's recent activities and set out leads concerning funds obviously received and expended by subject, and to closely follow auxiliary offices to insure complete information is developed and promptly submitted in disseminable form. New York also reminded to continually consider possible counterintelligence measures against subject.

Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that ABBOTT HOWARD HOFFMAN who is alleged to be a representative of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), was a speaker at the campus of the State University of New York at Potsdam,
New York, on March 4, 1969, at 8 p.m. [REDACTED] HOFFMAN spoke to between 750 and 800 students and adults at the Potsdam State University Theater. The theme of HOFFMAN's speech was "View-Points of Life," and according to the source HOFFMAN's appearance was sponsored by the Student Government Association Speaker's Commission at Potsdam State University.
HOFFMAN is alleged to have received a $500 fee for his speaking engagement.

(A characterization of the SDS appears in the appendix attached hereto).

Democratic National Convention in the summer of 1968 in Chicago, Illinois. HOFFMAN advised the audience the film was a depiction of the Chicago disorders from the view-point of the "Yippie Movement." (Yippie is the term applied to the Youth International Party, a radical, left wing movement headquartered in New York City). [REDACTED] the film was scenes of ancient Rome, large crowds and chariots and old movies of police cars. HOFFMAN continually referred to the police as pigs during the movie and the movie lasted for approximately 15 to 20 minutes.

After showing the movie, HOFFMAN's speech continued and lasted for approximately one hour. HOFFMAN used profanity quite freely, called for a revolution and ousting of the "foremans" of the organization. [REDACTED] HOFFMAN's speech was disorganized and students and adults attempted to heckle him from the audience. HOFFMAN met these attempts at heckling with arrogance and sarcasm and attempted to make the hecklers look bad. [REDACTED] that HOFFMAN became apparently discouraged with the reception that he was receiving from his audience and advised the audience that there was apparently no revolution at Potsdam State University and advised that he had observed from the time that he stepped foot on the campus that it was a "nothing."

After HOFFMAN's speech, he told the students that another individual by the name of JOSEPH KELLY who happened to arrive at Potsdam State University the same date, wanted to talk to the students and adults present about the possibility of organizing an SDS Chapter on the Potsdam State Campus. KELLY was not well received and he was continually heckled through his speech by members of the audience. The speech was then returned back to HOFFMAN due to the fact that KELLY's remarks were apparently falling on deaf ears, [REDACTED]

(JOSEPH KELLY has been identified as a student at Cornell University who is an active leader in the SDS in the Upstate New York area).

RE: ABBOTT HOWARD HOFFMAN

[REDACTED] that during the entire evening the students and adults present reacted as "during a comedy." HOFFMAN's vulgarity and the SDS organizer were not well received and after the lecture only about 20 students gathered around the speakers at the stage. No one talked to the SDS organizer, however, a few members of the group asked HOFFMAN about his experiences.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anticommunist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

"The New York Times," a New York City newspaper, in its issue of April 6, 1969, on page one contained an article captioned, "Thousands March Here To Demand Vietnam Pull Out." This article stated that thousands of anti-war demonstrators marched along the Avenue of the Americas on April 5, 1969, from Bryant Park to Central Park for a rally in "a downpour" demanding United States withdrawal from Vietnam, chanting, "End the war in Vietnam," "Bring the troops home," and "Free speech for GIs". The article noted that this parade began a weekend of anti-war demonstrations here (New York City) and in Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Atlanta, and elsewhere and that eventually the drive, according to its organizers, is to spread to 43 cities. The article indicated that the marchers appeared to represent a wide variety of causes, ranging from Puerto Rican independence to better hospital administration and that most of the marchers were young.

On April 5, 1969, Special Agents (SAs) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) observed the following events at the GI - Civilian Anti-War Parade and Rally, publicly announced as being sponsored and coordinated by the Fifth Avenue Vietnam Peace Parade Committee (FAVPPC):

At 12:30 p.m., a wreath laying ceremony was held at the "eternal light" in Madison Square Park, New York City, which was attended by approximately 20 to 35 persons and held under the auspices of the FAVPPC and the Veterans for Peace in Vietnam (VPV). Speakers included Herman Badillo, Bronx Borough President, and Representative James H. Scheuer. The

The parade began at 2:00 p.m. with the assembled groups marching north on the Avenue of the Americas (6th Avenue) from 41st Street (at Bryant Park). Half of the avenue was barricaded off, leaving traffic moving north on the east side while the parade moved north on the west side of the avenue.

The parade was led by members of the VPV and reportedly GIs' in civilian dress wearing white hats. Fred Halstead and Paul O'Dwyer, former democratic party candidate for Senate, led the marchers.

Assembly points for the parade was bounded by 37th Street on the south and 41st Street on the north, all west of the Avenue of the Americas.

Approximately 12 members of the National Renaissance Party (NRP) held a counter demonstration on the southeast corner of 42nd Street and the Avenue of the Americas behind police barricades. These counter demonstrators carried the flag of the NRP and plaque card stating "Karl Marx was a Jew" and "Red Commies Are Behind The Nigger Riots." The counter demonstration also included approximately 12 members of the Young Americans for Freedom (YAF) carrying American flags and wearing World War II helmet liners. The YAF counter demonstrators also carried a sign reading "Kill A Commie For Christ."

The parade proceeded north to Central Park and entered the park at 59th Street. The first contingent headed by a group from the ASU arrived at the bandshell at 2:50 p.m. It was estimated that some 2,000 persons were in the park at the site of the rally before the arrival of the first parade unit. At the rally site in Central Park there were two tables at which literature was sold by the SMC.

The formal program in the park began at approximately 3:40 p.m. with the singing of several folk songs by the Reverend Frederick Douglass. Kirkpatrick identified as an official of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

During the rally held at the bandshell in Central Park, Al Evanoff acted as Co-Chairman along with Ossie Davis. Evanoff stated he was a fighter against the war in Vietnam and a trade unionist. He gave no speech but introduced several of the speakers. Davis introduced the speakers for the second half of the program and he described the gathering as being a force for "peace power." He called for support for the 21 members of the BPP who had recently been arrested and also called upon those present to send contributions to the Black Panthers so that they could make bail. In addition, he requested those present to participate in the demonstration at 100 Center Street, New York City, on April 11, 1968, in support of the 21 arrested BPP members and called for everyone attending the rally to come to Central Park on April 15, 1969, to participate in a rally to be sponsored by welfare groups. This latter rally was announced as being held to oppose a "conspiracy" by the New York State legislature against black people in particular in reducing their welfare payments.

At approximately 3:50 p.m. Dixie Bayo was introduced as the first speaker at the rally. Bayo began her speech addressing the audience as "companeros" and stated that "we" the people of the third world, black, Puerto Ricans, the people of Asia, Africa and Latin America are angry and that these groups are suffering everyday the consequences of the most brutal exploitation by American masters and that they had learned that they could not have peace as long as American exploitation exists. Inasmuch as American monopolists would not leave these countries voluntarily, Bayo stated that "our people learned that the only answer to a counter-revolutionary violence is revolutionary violence." She continued that imperialism is exposing itself in barbaric ways in Vietnam and that the Puerto Ricans in fighting for the independence of their country fight the same enemy of the Vietnamese people and she expressed the solidarity of the Puerto Rican people with the National Liberation Front of South Vietnam as the true representatives of the Vietnamese people and urged support for the demand of the immediate withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam. She pointed out that the campaign against the compulsory draft in Puerto Rico has been very successful and that for the last three years hundreds of cases of resistance have been postponed, and since the war in Vietnam, not one single Puerto Rican has been indicted in these matters and that thousands have expressed publicly "Hell No We Won't Go." She closed her speech urging that the forces here today be moved in a demand for community control of education, welfare and health; that black political prisoners be freed as well as Puerto Rican political prisoners and that United States troops be immediately withdrawn from Vietnam and that Puerto Rico be given its freedom now.

The next speaker was Beulah Sanders who began her speech at approximately 4:00 p.m. with the reading of a telegram which she stated was being sent to President Nixon, the Secretary of Defense, United States Congressmen, the Ways and Means Committee, the Armed Forces Committee and Governor Rockefeller of New York State. This telegram stated that the war in Vietnam has a direct and clear relationship to the war on the poor in New York City and that the Federal Government is spending thirty million dollars a day in Vietnam to kill innocent people while the State Government in New York City reduces the amount a person on welfare is to live on to sixty cents a day. The reading of the telegram continued that the New York State welfare cut equals one hundred fifty million dollars while the Federal Government spends that much in a week in Vietnam and Governor Rockefeller spends four times as much in building the mall in Albany. Sanders, in reading the telegram further, demanded that the war in Vietnam be stopped immediately and that the thirty million dollars a day saved be diverted into meeting the domestic needs in this country.

At the conclusion of the reading by Sanders, the Master of Ceremonies requested that all in favor of sending the telegram to Rockefeller and Nixon say "Aye" and there was an overwhelming response on the part of the audience.

The next speaker was introduced as "the man who is taking most of the chances to be before this mike, one which we came to hear, one which the hundreds of GIs are here to listen to as their spokesman." The speaker was identified as the GI representative at this meeting and the person who would speak on behalf of the GIs - Richard Cartright.

Cartright began his talk at approximately 4:05 p.m. and his speech was interrupted by a group carrying Vietcong flags and pigs' heads on sticks trying to take over the speaker's platform but were prevented from doing so by units of the New York City Police Department (NYCPD).

In his speech, Richard Cartright spoke of the soldier's right to assemble under the guarantee of the First Amendment and stated he believed it was immoral not to do so. He felt also that it was a human right to speak out against the war and stated that soldiers had the right to speak out, the same as any human being.

He noted that the GI protest was a new phenomenon and as examples referred to the GI newspapers which he alleged were being published at twenty bases. He also noted how "Coffee Houses" were established at various military bases and urged civilian support noting that this was a very important aspect of the program to assist the GI's against the war.

He referred to the Presidio case and how the twenty-seven GI's involved spoke out regarding the "inhuman" conditions in the stockade. He urged the crowd to support the release of the Presidio people.

Cartright also spoke of the "Fort Jackson" case. He indicated a group of GI's there circulated a petition against the Vietnam war and how they secured several hundred signatures. He mentioned how some of the GI's involved were harrassed and how several were arrested on all kinds of charges.

Cartright urged public support of the GI's who were resisting the Vietnam war in the armed forces. He indicated that if several hundred GI's who were present at the demonstration could make this sacrifice and probably face military harassment for doing so, the civilians could likewise help them by also protesting.

After Cartright's speech, a guerrilla theater group known as the Pageant Players put on a skit ridiculing the American presence in Vietnam.

During this period there was a slight disruption at the stage of the rally and group chants were heard stating, "Free the Panthers 21, Power to the People."

At approximately 4:25 p.m., the next speaker was introduced as Professor Howard Zinn, who stated as follows:

Professor Zinn said that we are tired of waiting for the government to end the war, that the best way to stop the war is for the United States to pack up and get out of Vietnam right now. He said that there is nothing in Vietnam that belongs to the United States. That the responsibility, for the deaths in Vietnam, belongs in Washington and that the coffins of those brought back from Vietnam, should be piled up on the White House lawn, to remind the President and the country where the responsibility lies for those deaths.

Professor Zinn stated that there is something wrong with the political and economic system of this country and great changes are going to have to be made in this country to make it liveable. He said that the rich have always run this country and they are still running it. He stated that there is something wrong with justice in this country when Eldridge Cleaver has to stay in hiding and James Eastland is in the Senate. He said that this situation should be reversed. Zinn stated that there never has been justice in this country for the poor people or the black people.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

He said that we cannot trust this government with the lives of our children and it is time to declare our independence from it. That we must create a new political force in this country, from the people who are sick and tired of war and racism and everything that is rotten and corrupt in this country.

He concluded by stating that we need revolutionary changes in this country and we are going to have to learn how to make a revolution.

At approximately 4:36 p.m., Ossie Davis, one of the Co-Chairmen of the rally, spoke and stated that they were there to express their determination to have peace and power and that in thinking of the 21 black young men (members of the BPP) that if these 21 young black men were in Vietnam killing the South and North Vietnamese the world would make them heroes. He then asked support for the defense of the "21" and stated that funds were to be sent to the BPP care of Box 1224, Brooklyn, New York, and then announced the appearance of the Reverend Frederick Douglass Kirkpatrick, who he described as a man who is a fighter and artist and a musician and "a man with a message and a guitar." Frederick Douglass Kirkpatrick spoke at approximately 4:40 p.m. and exhorted the group to "get the brothers out of jail," eulogized Martin Luther King saying that while Doctor King was talking about integration he was "the golden voice of America," but when he spoke out "against the evil injustice of this country in reference to the war in Vietnam he became a staunch enemy of Brother Hoover," and that Brother Hoover "called him the most notorious liar in the world." He further said that in the next four years, under the Nixon regime, there would be more people framed up and thrown in jail than there was back in the 1930's and appealed for contributions to the Panthers and stated "Let us march together, fight together, and get them out of jail because whether you know it or not you are in the mist of a revolution." He then began to sing "When one man's got a million and another ain't got a dime, that's when law and order is just another name for crime....." His second song was "Mommy why was a darkie born?" and his last song was "I'm gonna lay down my burden, down by the riverside." As the song ended, the crowd in the audience began to shout, "Hell No We Won't Go," again and again.

At approximately 4:50 p.m., Ossie Davis stated that the sentiments expressed by the Reverend Kirkpatrick were "our sentiments" and announced that on April 15, 1969, there would be a rally here (in Central Park) to protest to the "real war, the dangerous war in our country, the legislature in New York with respect to the reduction in welfare funds by the New York State government." Davis then introduced the next speaker as "the one and only Dave Dellinger."

Dave Dellinger spoke beginning at approximately 4:53 p.m. and spoke against the war in Vietnam. He said that the "Hell No" slogan was started by the GI's; that there had been a frame-up of Black people; that during the McCarthy period the peace movement was confused and demoralized, but that now it was no longer demoralized; that the American Government can't wage war against the American people.

Dellinger further stated that he was with Bobby Seale in San Francisco when a call came from New York advising Seale of the arrest of Panthers for planning to blow-up department stores. Dellinger stated that Seale commented that the charge was "stupid" as "there are people in the stores."

Dellinger stated that since the war was lost, a lot of people were coming into the peace movement; that the GI's, the Panthers, and the National Liberation Front were welcome and needed to obtain solidarity.

Dellinger said that the United States Government had to escalate the air war since everytime they moved on the ground they were caught in a trap; that they were doing this, not to win the war, but to punish the people of Vietnam and to try and convince the American people that they would get a better deal at Paris. He said that there were only two things for the Americans to negotiate at Paris: 1) How many days needed to bring the troops home, and 2) How much to pay Vietnam for the damage done to the country, since no price could be put on the lives that were lost.

Dellinger concluded his talk by introducing an eight minute tape of "Greetings" from the number two person, a woman, on the North Vietnam negotiating team at Paris.

At approximately 5:05 p.m., a recorded message by Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, identified as the representative of the South Vietnam National Front for Liberation to the Paris Conference on Vietnam, was played. This recording was very difficult to understand because it was given with a heavy Vietnamese accent. However, on April 11, 1969, a tenth source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, made available a release of this recorded talk, which is set forth as follows:

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Peace Mobilization
April 4 - 6, 1969

"Dear American friends,

"On behalf of South-Vietnamese patriots fighting for independence and freedom in our country, I wish to extend to you, participants in the April 5, 1969 anti-war march and rally in New-York, my friendly greetings for solidarity.

"I warmly welcome your rally, co-sponsored by the National Mobilization Committee to end the War in Vietnam and the Fifth Avenue Vietnam Peace Parade Committee, demanding that the Nixon government end the war, bring the troops home and give full freedom for black and Spanish-speaking people. I wish to welcome in particular the G.I.s present at this rally and to all G.I.s in general who have joined in ever greater numbers the anti-war movement.

"The population of South-Vietnam harbours no enmity towards the American people. We only want to live in peace and freedom on the land bequeathed to us by our forefathers. We do not want that sons of the American people die needlessly in South-Vietnam, and the wealth of the American people be squandered overthere. But we have been forced to take up arms to fight back a gigantic army, involving more than one half million of G.I.s, sixty thousand troops of the satellite countries and more than eight hundred thousand mercenaries of the Saigon administration set up by the United States in South-Vietnam, an army which uses daily most savage means of war to devastate our country and massacre out compatriots.

"Faced with the setbacks it has suffered both in South and North-Vietnam, the Johnson government has been compelled to stop the bombing of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and sit together with the South-Vietnam National Front for Liberation at the four-party Conference on Vietnam in Paris. The Paris Conference on Vietnam has dragged on more than two months and a half, and a few days ago held its eleventh session, but contrary to the hopes of the whole mankind, especially those of the Vietnamese and American peoples who directly bear the terrible consequences of that cruel war, the conference has made no progress.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Peace Mobilization
April 4 - 6, 1969

"At the conference table, the delegate of the United States government has repeatedly stated about the American will to "search peace" in South-Vietnam, but in fact, since President Nixon took office, his administration has been pursuing and even intensifying the United States war of aggression in South-Vietnam. At present, the total effectives of United States, satellite and Saigon troops have been brought to some 1,500,000 men. The number of flights and the quantity of bombs dropped by B.52s on heavily populated areas, resulting in mass-massacre of civilians, have increased at least by a half as compared with the previous time, with a daily average of about 1,500 tons. In towns still temporarily occupied by them, the United States and the Saigon administration are intensifying the repression of those who are demanding independence and peace, regardless of their social belonging: students, intellectuals, buddhists...etc...

"Facts in South-Vietnam prove that the Nixon administration is still reluctant to give up its wicked designs to maintain at any cost the warlike and rotten Thieu-Ky-Huong administration in order to realize its ambition of dominating our country. Recently the United States government has stated many times about the need of so-called "private talks," as if that is the key for a solution to the Vietnam problem. Acting on orders of the United States, the head of the Saigon administration Nguyen-van-Thieu has voiced his demand for private talks with the NLF. But at the same time, he declared his "opposition to the withdrawal of United States forces from South-Vietnam" and demanded the dissolution of the NLF.

"It is obvious that this is not a serious proposal, but a mere trick of the Nixon administration, aimed at covering up its policy of war intensification in South-Vietnam and coping with public opinion in the United States and in the world, which is urging for an end to the war. The important problem does not lie in the way the talks may be held, privately or in plenary session, but in whether the United States government is willing to settle peacefully the South-Vietnam problem, on the basis of the respect of the fundamental national rights of the Vietnamese people or not.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Peace Mobilization
April 4 -6, 1969

"The South-Vietnam National Front for Liberation has come to the Paris Conference with a serious attitude and the goodwill to find a political solution to the South-Vietnam problem, which would bring real independence and freedom to our people. The key problem is that the United States must totally and unconditionally withdraw its own troops as well as those of its satellites from South-Vietnam. This is a legitimate demand, fully consistent with right and morals, with the interests of the Vietnamese and the American peoples.

"If the Nixon administration really wants to end the war in Vietnam, we are ready to talk with it. But if it continues to nurture its designs of dominating our country, the people and National Front for Liberation of South-Vietnam cannot but continue their just fight, until real independence and freedom are won. Through the current offensive by the armed forces of the NLF backed by the South-Vietnam population, once more the South-Vietnam population are voicing firmly their legitimate right to self-defense, the right to self-determination of any self-respected people who refuse to be subdued by violence.

"The honorable way for the United States government is not to pursue an inhumane and costly war, which impairs the prestige of the United States, but to put an end to this war, and repatriate all the G.I.s. The United States government must be held responsible before the American people for squandering the GI's lives in South-Vietnam.

"I wish your march and rally the best successes. On this opportunity, I wish to express out indignation at the new base act of repression by the Nixon administration, in indicting Dave Dellinger, Tom Hayden, Rennie Davis and five other friends, in an attempt to stamp out the anti-war movement in the United States. People who are demanding an end to the war, an end to the slaughter of Vietnamese children, are not guilty. Guilty are precisely those who, in the name of the American nation, are daily raining napalm to incinerate South-Vietnamese children. We fully support your courageous fight against war, poverty, racism, for a healthier society worthy of the fine traditions of freedom and justice of the American nation. I send you my best greetings for solidarity."

At approximately 5:15 p.m., Dellinger stated that the United States, which had started the action in Vietnam and then wanted to have it approved in Chicago, had indicted eight demonstrators for crossing state lines and using interstate facilities to start a riot. Dellinger said that these demonstrators have decided to call themselves the "Conspiracy" because that was one of the charges, and with that statement, he said that some of his co-conspirators were there today and first of all he wanted to introduce "Mad Dog Jerry Rubin."

At approximately 5:16 p.m., Jerry Rubin began his talk by stating "Hello fellow conspirators. I want to say a special hello to Eldridge Cleaver, who is in the audience." Rubin pointed out that he had just come from California where he met with other conspirators and that Bobby Seale stated that 5,000 Black Panthers were going to be in the streets of Chicago when the trial begins. Rubin said that he was worried about the fact that the atmosphere on the stage was a little bit like a police state. He added that Seale wanted to come to New York, but that he is restricted to California and that when they (those under indictment) go to Chicago on Wednesday, they (the government) are going to try to restrict their travel because they (the government) claim that everything they do is inciting people to riot. Rubin said that they are not going to accept the travel restrictions and that the indictment against them as well as the indictment against the panthers are the final dying gasp of a dying empire and that it was up to them (the people indicted in Chicago) to "knock the final nails in the coffin" and the best way to do that is by freeing themselves. Rubin pointed out that they can free themselves by bringing the high schools and colleges to a close and that the best way they could overthrow the power structure was to bring the war home. Rubin stated that this "is a conspiracy - this is the first meeting of the conspiracy" and with that introduced "another conspirator - Abbie."

Bobby Seale is publicly known

Eldridge Cleaver is publicly known as Minister of Information of the BPP.

Abbie Hoffman then spoke and stated that he had two friends with him, one was "Cousin Clyde" from the "Hell's Angels" and the other was Ben Ortiz, who Hoffman said was facing five years in Chicago for inciting to riot. Hoffman's speech was replete with profanities and obscenities and initially noted that he disapproved of the presence of the police in the area of the rally. He first spoke about the word "repression" and said that what is happening to the panthers and what is going on all over the country is a sign of repression. He urged the audience to organize and pointed out that this rally was an anti-war demonstration and that the next demonstration would be a pro-war demonstration because this would be the beginning of the spring offensive. He concluded with the remark that "this is a dying system and these are symptoms of the dying system and we, the conspiracy, are going to dance on the grave of this system, free the panthers."

On the evenings of May 11 and 12, 1968,
"At Random" television program was aired on the Columbia Broadcasting System
Television (CBS-TV), Channel Two, Chicago, Illinois, with Moderator John Madigon.
Among the participants on part two of these programs was Abbie Hoffman, who identified himself as a representative of the Youth International Party (YIP).
During the ensuing discussion, Hoffman was asked if he was in favor of the overthrow of the United States Government by the Moderator and Hoffman replied that he was in favor of the overthrow of the United States Government by any means possible.

At this point the audience took up the chant "Free the panthers, (Obscene) the system," which was repeated several times.

The next speaker was Ben Ortiz who introduced himself as "Benjamin" and pointed out that this was supposed to be an anti-war rally, but said "We got a war at home let's deal with it. This is revolution. Let's deal with revolution at home." He stated that this was going to be a long summer and that something has got to happen this summer and urged the people when they left here to make a change to do something in going back to the colleges, the high schools, and the family and to do it "with a fist." He said that they wanted to stop the war and to bring the troops home, that the war is in America and urged the audience to go to the White House and stated that "You put it up you can take it down if they don't change."

At approximately 5:30 p.m., Ossie Davis made an announcement that there would be a party that evening on West 43rd Street for GIs and that on April 11, 1969, at 9:00 a.m. there would be a mass demonstration at 100 Center Street, New York City, in support of the Panther 21. He then paid tribute to the FAVPPC in arranging for this rally and said that there were an estimated one hundred thousand persons there at that time and solicited contributions from the audience on behalf of the FAVPPC and the other committees involved in arranging this demonstration. He then stated that music "to give money by" would be provided by Barbara Dane and Phil Ochs. WV

Barbara Dane made a few remarks concerning the war in Vietnam and pointed out that in one country, South Vietnam, they have a leader who can walk in the streets without police protection Ho Chi Minh. She then sang a song about him.

At approximately 4:45 p.m., Phil Ochs was introduced by the Chairman, Ossie Davis, and sang a song titled, "On March 10, the Battle of New Orleans -----." This was followed by another song by Ochs called, "All Quiet in the Western Front."

At approximately 5:47 p.m., Ossie Davis introduced the next speaker who he identified as D.C. - the "Field Marshall of the National Black Panther Party."

D.C. began his speech by saying "power to the people, power to the people," and stated that he had a message for the "pigs" which was that "you don't have Eldridge (Cleaver)." He quoted on two occasions from the "Red Book" (writings of Mao Tse Tung) page 83 - 84 and said that they would not fight fire with fire; that they (BPP) would not fight racism with racism, but would fight racism with solidarity; that they would not fight capitalism with black capitalism, but with the implementation of socialism and socialist programs for the people. He said that "all peoples and revolutionaries must defend themselves with organized guns and force when attacked by the pig power structure. The socialist system will eventually replace the capitalist racist system." D.C. said that this was an objective law, independent of man's will and is in the "Red Book" on page 24.

He urged support for the 21 BPP members arrested by the NYCPD during the week and also praised Huey Newton of the BPP and stated that the Panther 21, as well as Huey Newton must be set free. D.C. stated that it was time to recognize that the struggle in Vietnam and the struggle in America by black people are all one struggle, a struggle against "capitalistic imperialistic, racist pigs." He further said that "pigs are standing in the way of history," and that people will smash these "pigs" and that the people must demonstrate that they did not go along with the attacks against the black community as personified in the attacks against the BPP.

At approximately 6:03 p.m. the rally was terminated by Ossie Davis, who urged the audience to go on and keep "peace and power" in front of them.

Special Agents of the FBI estimated the size of the parade as it passed the vicinity of 58th Street and the Avenue of the Americas en route to Central Park numbered approximately 30,000 persons, the majority of whom were teenagers, high school youth and "hippie types." It was also noted that many of the marchers on arriving at 59th Street adjacent to the south side of Central Park did not enter the park but moved out of the line of march at that point. It was further noted that the number of persons in Central Park adjacent to the bandshell area constantly changed with people coming and going and that at any one time the total number of persons in that area and the area immediately surrounding the bandshell did not exceed five to six thousand persons.

 advised that the first four individuals named above were charged with inciting to riot and the latter two were charged with disorderly conduct.

On April 18, 1969, a Special Agent (SA) of the FBI checked the records of the New York Criminal Court, 100 Center Street, New York City, regarding the aforementioned arrests and determined that Richard Holland and Stephen Holland were charged with inciting to riot, unlawful assembly and resisting arrest at 2:30 p.m. in the vicinity of 40th Street and the Avenue of the Americas, New York City. Barry M. Eckstein also known as Martin Barry was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct at the same time and location and David M. Bakst was charged with inciting to riot, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct at the same location and time. John Kelly and Ray Roche were charged with disorderly conduct at approximately 3:15 p.m. in the vicinity of 40th Street and 6th Avenue, New York City. The records of the court further reflected that with respect to the arrests and arraignments of April 5, 1969, all were out on bond for hearings in June, 1969. Stephen Holland is to appear in court on June 16, 1969, while the other five are to appear in court on June 20, 1969.

AMERICAN SERVICEMEN'S UNION

[REDACTED] that the American Servicemen's Union (ASU), formed during early 1968, maintains headquarters at 156 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York. ASU is dominated and controlled by the Workers World Party (WWP) and is designed to advance WWP efforts to undermine United States political and military objectives abroad by fomenting discontent among military enlisted personnel and by calling for establishment of a servicemen's union. ASU's chief propaganda weapon is publication of "The Bond - The Servicemen's Newspaper", which is widely circulated at military installations free of charge and at times unsolicited.

[REDACTED] that the ASU Chairman is ANDREW DEAN STAPP, undesirably discharged from the United States Army in April, 1968. STAPP is a member of the WWP. "ASU" and "The Bond" are terms used interchangeably in connection with WWP interests in military matters. The former has no real existence apart from the latter, since the publication is the primary means of generating interest among and communicating with servicemen interested in formation of a union. The union does not function as an organization at this time. It has, however, been given much publicity in each edition of "The Bond".

BLACK PANTHER PARTY

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "... we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

MOVIMIENTO PRO-INDEPENDENCIA DE PUERTO RICO
(Puerto Rican Independence Movement) (MPIPR)

The MPIPR was organized in November, 1959, at Ponce, Puerto Rico, to work for the independence of Puerto Rico. It has an estimated membership of between 1,000 and 1,300 people with missions throughout the island of Puerto Rico and in New York, New York; Chicago, Illinois; and Buffalo, New York.

At the time the MPIPR was organized, it indicated that it did not advocate violence but would accept members who did. JUAN MARI BRAS, the founder and dominant leader of this organization, in a speech during March, 1964, threatened violence comparable to that in Algeria, 1964, if Puerto Rico became a state within the United States. A source reported in 1966, that a leader of the MPIPR has indicated that "the revolution" would soon begin and another source advised that another official of this organization has attempted to obtain a number of automatic pistols.

Articles praising FIDEL CASTRO and the Cuban Government regularly appear in the MPIPR publications. In 1961, the MPIPR adopted a resolution expressing a 100 percent approval of and solidarity with the Cuban revolution. It sent a delegation to the Tri-Continental Conference of African, Asian, and Latin American People, held in Havana, Cuba, during January, 1966, and it maintains a permanent delegate to the Secretariat located in Havana.

The press of Puerto Rico has reported that the MPIPR has held numerous demonstrations protesting compulsory military service of Puerto Ricans and United States policy in Vietnam and the Dominican Republic.

In December, 1966, the Governor of Puerto Rico signed into law a bill calling for a plebiscite on July 23, 1967, to determine the future political status of Puerto Rico. The plebiscite denounced vociferously by the MPIPR as "an act of Yankee imperialism to maintain the colonial status of Puerto Rico," resulted in an overwhelming endorsement of the present Free Associated State status.

GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us". [REDACTED] that this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and inter-grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of LEON TROTSKY and retreating from the fight for the world Socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) peripheryindividuals characterized by the minority as petty-bourgeois.

The minority program, according to the source, advocated unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal

ReNYairtel, 5/8/69.

b7D [REDACTED] subject appeared at an affair sponsored by the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee and the National Lawyer's Guild, held at the Fillmore East, 2nd Ave. and Sixth St., NYC, on the evening of 5/8/69.

[REDACTED] subject delivered a rambling, disjointed speech filled with obscenities, most of which made little or no sense. During his speech subject began to remove his clothes and finally appeared before the audience stark naked. He then capered around the stage trading obscenities with the audience.

Subject, still on the stage, began to dress again, this time in hippy-type clothing which he apparently had brought with him. At no time during his "speech" did he ask for contributions or refer to his forthcoming trial in Chicago, Illinois.

It is noted that the above affair was held for the benefit of the Draft and Military Law Panel of the ECLC and the NLG.

3. The "Berkeley Barb", a California newspaper in its April 11-17, 1969, issue on page 9 contained an article by the subject entitled "F**K the F**G" wherein the subject writes about his arrest for wearing a flag shirt at the HUAC hearings in Washington, D.C. last October.

A review of the files of the NYO contained no other pertinent writings, public statements or publications which are not already in the possession of the Chicago Office. No leads were set out to other offices in whose territory the subject has made public appearances, as the above file review indicated that other offices have been alerted to forward public statements concerning the subject to the NYO and Chicago.

The NYO will remain alert for any new writings and public statements concerning the subject and will promptly forward such material to the Chicago Office for the USA's use.

The subject is scheduled to appear in the Criminal Court of the City of New York on 5/16/69, in connection with his arrest by the New York City Police Department on 4/11/69, for disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and felonious assault.

The NYO will follow this court appearance of the subject.
